About This Journey

For two or three weeks each spring, the terraced orchards of Hunza Valley turn white and pink beneath the snow line of Rakaposhi and Ultar Sar. This five-day journey times every stop to that brief, extraordinary window — walking trails, forts, and family orchards at the exact moment the valley is in full bloom.

Five-Day Itinerary

- 1 Day 1 — Arrival in Gilgit to Karimabad
KARAKORAM HIGHWAY
Fly or drive into Gilgit, then wind along the Karakoram Highway into a valley just beginning to bloom. Settle in with a welcome dinner overlooking Rakaposhi.
- 2 Day 2 — Baltit Fort & the Old Karimabad Blossom Walk
KARIMABAD
A morning tour through 700-year-old Baltit Fort, followed by an afternoon on foot through Old Karimabad's terraced orchards, heavy with cherry and apricot blossom.

3

Day 3 — Sunrise at Duikar & Eagle's Nest

DUIKAR VIEWPOINT

Rise before dawn for Pakistan's finest valley panorama — Rakaposhi and Ultar Sar catching first light over an orchard floor turned pink and white.

4

Day 4 — Altit Fort & the Riverside Orchards

ALTIT

Explore Hunza's oldest fort, then wander the riverside orchard trails and share tea with a local family whose blossoms have bloomed for four generations.

5

Day 5 — Farewell Breakfast & Departure

GILGIT

One last unhurried morning among the blossoms before the transfer back to Gilgit for your onward journey.
